As Camden residents living in the coastal zoning area we believe that making an exemption to the current zoning laws (spot zoning) for McLean Hospital is not in the best interest of the our community. Spot zoning affects the entire town, not just the coastal zoning area. Spot zoning for McLean Hospital sets a precedence for any commercial enterprise to seek an exemption to our current zoning laws. There are enough commercially designated areas to accommodate McLean without intruding on any residential area. In the best interests of this lovely town, we strongly request that the Planning Board rejects this request for a zoning change.

Yours truly,

David and Janan Vaughn
